Hill York Becomes Official HVAC Provider of Nu Stadium, Delivering State-of-the-Art Mechanical Systems

MIAMI – April 23, 2026 – Hill York Service Company, LLC (Hill York) is pleased to announce a collaboration with Inter Miami CF as the official HVAC provider at the Club’s Miami home, Nu Stadium. Hill York delivered a full state-of-the-art mechanical systems package to support the 26,700-seat soccer stadium, which opened on April 4. This collaboration reflects Hill York’s expertise in delivering high-performance mechanical systems for complex, large-scale projects that require close coordination across multiple trades and stakeholders.

“As we celebrate our 90th anniversary, this project is a meaningful milestone for Hill York, building on our legacy as one of the first companies to bring HVAC to Miami’s hospitality industry,” said Nikole Dunabeitia, President of Hill York. “This announcement is the result of a tremendous team effort and aligns with our focus on innovation, reliability, and building environments where world-class performance thrives. We’re honored to contribute to a landmark project that will serve fans, athletes, and the Miami community for years to come.”

Nu Stadium’s mechanical scope included installation of major HVAC infrastructure, a central energy plant, chilled water and condenser water systems, air handling equipment, ductwork, piping, controls, and system integration. Throughout the facility, these systems are designed to support athlete performance and premium fan amenities.
